Church and State Lose a Brilliant Educator and Noted Disciplinary.

Rev. David C. Fennessy, C. R., Goes to His Heavenly Reward.

Under His Guidance St. Mary's College Acquired National Reputation.

NATIVE OF THE EMERALD ISLE

Rev. David Fennessy, C. R., one of the most brilliant scholars in Kentucky and the greatest disciplinarian of the South in his days, died at St. Vincent's institution of the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul in St. Louis. He breathed his last Wednesday afternoon, October 22. In his death the congregation of the Resurrection loses not only one of its most faithful servants, the diocese of Louisville one of its most exemplary priests and the State one of its most eminent citizens, but the community, church and State lose a man through whose co-operation they have all flourished in his fields of labor. He truly was a most distinguished scholar, a most zealous priest, and yet most humble servant of God. He was President of St. Mary's College for twenty-five years, and the fruits of his labors have not only been enjoyed in the past but will be enjoyed for generations to come.

Father Fennessy was born at Clonmel, County Tipperary, Ireland, on All Saints' day, 1841. Born on the soil where the blood of martyrs was spilled for many years and where the faith was preserved under most trying circumstances, he added to the fame of Tipperary, which is known for the many Bishops and priests it produced, by becoming a priest of God himself. He was the youngest of ten children. While quite young the family migrated to Guilford, Canada, where he received his early education in the grammar school of that place. In his sixteenth year he attended St. Michael's College at Toronto. Being gifted with a wonderful mind and learning, to know, to love and to serve God from his early boyhood, he decided that the holy priesthood was his vocation and resolved to dedicate his life to God. Consequently he entered the Grand Seminary, Montreal, where he prepared himself for the priesthood. In 1865 he applied for admission to the congregation of the Resurrection at St. Agatha and was admitted by the Very Rev. Jerome Kajsiewicz, C. R., Superior General of the order. On April 29, 1867, he reached the goal of his ambition when he was ordained a priest of God at St. Agatha. The following two years he taught at St. Jerome's College in Berlin. From 1869 to 1871 he made his novitiate at Rome, Italy, taking the final vows of the order on March 16, 1871.

In the fall of 1873 his enviable record began when he was elected President of St. Mary's College at St. Mary, Ky. The year previous to that he held the office of Vice President, being the first Vice President of the college after the congregation of Resurrection assumed charge. The college had been closed on account of financial embarrassment and the buildings had been rented to a farmer. Since the Jesuits failed to re-establish it and the time was over it looked as though St. Mary's would never be a place of learning again. But it was not long before this opinion lost its weight. And that St. Mary's is a college today, and one of the leading Catholic institutions in the South, is due chiefly to the labors of Father Fennessy. When we consider the condition the college was in when the community assumed charge and the times in which it was started to be rebuilt, one can not help but conclude that the occasion required the services of a man—a man in whom "the elements were so mixed that all the world might stand up and say, this was a man"—and such a man Father Fennessy proved to be. With the many repairs to be made and the ravages of war to contend with, he labored from day to day. These obstacles did not dismay him in the least, but only served to bring out the sterling qualities of manhood that he possessed. Within a short time after he was elected President the college began to flourish as it did before the civil war. In truth, he was the founder of a second St. Mary's—the St. Mary's that is known to the nation over, the St. Mary's whose sons are found in all walks of life. The names of Father Byrne, the founder of St. Mary's, and Father Fennessy shall ever be connected with the history of St. Mary's. And strange to relate, the remains of the two priests, the two founders, the two builders, the two servants of God who have entered their final resting place to enjoy the fruits of their labors in life eternal, lay side by side in the college cemetery. To serve his fellow men, to alleviate their wants, to enlighten them on any subject, especially those pertaining to our last end, to see the sorrowing heart, in short, to follow in the footsteps of our Lord, was the constant aim of Father Fennessy, no matter what sacrifice it may have cost him, no matter what worldly honor he may have lost by so doing and no matter what pleasure he had to forego. Like a child who obeys his parents, he obeyed the call of the Almighty on every occasion.

The remains of Father Fennessy were brought from St. Louis to St. Mary's College, where the funeral services were held on Monday morning, October 27. Long before the time set for the services many had arrived from far and near to view the remains of the beloved priest for the last time. The services were very impressive. Very Rev. John Kasprzycki, Superior General of the congregation of the Resurrection, on Rome, Italy, was celebrant of the solemn funeral mass; Very Rev. Theo. Speitz, C. R., of Berlin, Canada, and Very Rev. John Kasinski, C. R., of Chicago, Ill., acted as deacon and sub-deacon respectively; Rev. C. P. Ruffo, of Louisville, was master of ceremonies. The Gregorian chant peculiar to a requiem mass was intoned by the clergy and the choir. Very Rev. Joseph Hegarty, of Lebanon, celebrated the funeral discourse. He paid an eloquent tribute to the memory of the deceased and gave a beautiful account of his life work. The death of a good priest was the subject of his sermon, in the course of which he portrayed the sterling character of the deceased. From the chapel the funeral proceeded to the college cemetery, where the remains were interred in their final resting place. The procession to the cemetery was made up of clergy, alumni, students and visitors from the neighborhood. The scene was most touching as his remains were being lowered in the grave, many being unable to refrain from shedding tears. The pall-bearers were Very Rev. Thomas Hayes, of Bowling Green; Rev. J. J. Pike, of St. Mary's; Rev. Thomas White, Rev. Patrick Walsh, Rev. John G'Connor and Rev. Robert Craney. Other priests attending the funeral were Rev. W. B. Dawkins, O. P. Springfield; Rev. W. P. Haggarty, New Haven; Rev. J. E. Kernan, Rev. E. M. Bachmann, and Rev. John Kinnher, Louisville; Rev. W. J. Howlett, Loretto; Very Rev. J. Koschick, C. R., Rev. A. Speitz, Rev. Thad. Ligman, Chicago; Very Rev. T. Speitz, C. R., Berlin, Canada; Rev. O. B. Clarendon, Little Rock, Ark.; Very Rev. J. C. O'Connell, Bardonia; Rev. Robert McDonnell, Calvary; Rev. W. D. Pike, Fairfield; Rev. Edmund Wlesneeth, O. S. B., Danville; Rev. Nicholas Ryan, and Rev. Brother James, Louisville.

Rev. Mother Praxedis, of Loretto Academy, and Rev. Mother Aquin, of St. Catherine's Academy, Springfield, both accompanied by several members of their respective communities, represented their institutions at the funeral. The deceased frequently visited both academies, where his spiritual advice and information on points of doctrine was often sought, as he was well versed in the latter. The Sisters are among the many who greatly mourn his loss.

A large number of the alumni of St. Mary's College, mostly former students of Father Fennessy, were also present. Other visitors from distant parts were Richard Fennessy, of Columbus, Ohio, brother of the deceased, and Miss Grace Fennessy, his niece. Right Rev. P. J. Muldoon, Bishop of Rockford, Ill., and Right Rev. J. B. Morris, Bishop of Little Rock, Ark., both former pupils of Father Fennessy, were unable to attend his obsequies owing to their presence at the congress held in Boston. The college chapel was taxed to its utmost capacity by the many visitors from the neighborhood.

FLAG FOR TENT.

During the recent Calvary Camp of instruction near Winchester, Va., Rev. George J. Waring, Chaplain of the Eleventh Cavalry, requested the adoption of a flag for the tent in the field, for the purpose that it is difficult to distinguish the chapel when troops are massed together, as they must be in large encampments. Father Waring states that even officers have missed services because they could not locate the place where they were being held, and when soldiers want to speak to the Chaplain in private business they do not like to inquire for his tent from their fellow soldiers for fear of ridicule. The flag will be three by two feet, with a blue field and white Latin or Greek cross, and its adoption was recommended by its superior officers and approved by order of the Secretary of War.

CHORISTERS LOSE DIRECTOR.

The Chicago Paulist Choristers are to lose their founder and director, the Rev. William J. Finn, C. S. P., of St. Mary's church, who leaves Chicago in December to found a training school of church music in St. Louis. A fund of $200,000 will be required to found the school and it will be raised by individual contributions. Father Finn has made an international reputation for Chicago, being the first choir of Americans to make a concert tour of Europe, and the winners of the first prize at the international music fete in Paris. In which 47 choirs from all over Europe competed, including the famous Sheffield choir of England.

CATHOLIC INCREASE.

The total number of pupils registered in the Catholic schools of St. Paul and Minneapolis on the first of October was 14,376, an increase of 1,830 over that of last year on the same date.

ORANGEMEN

Must Accept the Government's Decree and Also the Irish Parliament.

Asquith Will Not Consider Plan That Would Bar Irish Unity.

British Empire Is to Prove True With Its Home Rule Promise.

IRELAND MUST HAVE FREEDOM

Premier Asquith, straight from the recent meetings of the British Cabinet, gave to the country Saturday night the eagerly awaited decision of the Government on the Irish problem, which recently has become befogged by various proposals for conferences of the political parties and by divergent utterances of the members of the Cabinet. Premier Asquith came out emphatically against the suggested formal round-table conference, but betrayed a leaning toward a compromise on the lines suggested by the First Lord of the Admiralty, Winston Spencer Churchill, namely leaving the northeast corner of Ulster to remain under the Imperial Parliament for a limited period.

The Premier intimated that there must not be an insuperable barrier erected which might permanently sever the unity of Ireland or might prevent the Protestant minority from ultimately throwing in their lot with the rest of their fellow-countrymen; but the speech is taken to indicate that if the exclusion of Ulster was the only means of a settlement by consent he would be prepared to agree to that temporary arrangement.

Anxious as he showed himself to be for a friendly settlement, the Premier unhesitatingly announced his decision to establish a Parliament in Ireland in accordance with his promise, and also if the opposition declined his suggested adjustment of the Ulster problem to use the armed force of the nation in carrying the law into effect. There is no scheme for the adjustment of the problem, of Ulster which the Government would not consider, but if the statutes passed by Parliament are not by organized and armed resistance it would clearly be the duty of the executive, according to the Premier, to assert the authority of the law by every appropriate and adequate measure.

Premier Asquith admitted it was the duty of the Government to deal respectfully with the deep seated and genuine sentiment of the minority in Ireland, even though it believed that apprehension was groundless. There are two reasons, the Premier said, for a settlement by consent. The first of these is that it is of widespread importance for the new system of government not to start with the apparent triumph of one section and the humiliation of another. The second is that the settlement should be regarded by all parties as resting on a solid foundation without the risk of further parliamentary and electoral vicissitudes.

"Ireland has for too long been the cockpit of British politics," said the Premier. "The proposal for a conference of party leaders is not helpful, as without an agreed basis of discussion and defined limits it would be certainly abortive. Moreover there is no need for all this machinery of such a conference. If there was a general disposition to exchange views and suggestions I and my colleagues are perfectly ready to participate, subject to certain simple governing considerations—namely that nothing must interfere with the establishment in Dublin of a subordinate Irish Legislature with an executive responsible to it. That is the root principle of the bill from which the Cabinet can not depart. In the second place nothing must be done to erect a permanent and insuperable barrier in the way of Irish unity."

"One thing is certain—the Government is not going to be false to the trust the majority of the Irish has reposed in it. It is not going to betray their cause, which carries with it the best and only enduring prospects of a happy and prosperous future for Ireland."

SUFFERS DEATH STROKE.

John C. Flynn, a pioneer resident of this city, died at his home, 822 Cayton street, Monday morning. He built a tall white in a shed in the rear of the premises. He was found insensible and expired before he could be taken into the house. Mr. Flynn, who was eighty-five years old, was born in Ireland, but came to Louisville sixty-three years ago, and until his retirement because of the infirmities of old age was employed as a machinist by the L. and N. Railroad Company. One of the oldest members of St. Louis Bertrand's congregation, he was an active member of Division 4, A. O. H., and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. Besides his aged wife he leaves five sons, one of whom, John J. Flynn, is Master Mechanic in the South Louisville shops. The funeral services were held Wednesday morning, attended by many relatives and old-time friends and acquaintances.

REFURNISHING HALL.

At the meeting of Division 4, A. O. H., on Monday evening in Bernard Hall, President John H. Hennessey announced that the Hall Committee were making preparations to refurbish and decorate the hall brought out and that the members would be given a pleasant surprise when they attend the next meeting. Prayers were offered for the soul of John J. Flynn, one of the division's oldest members, and John J. Barry, Thomas J. Laagan and David J. Reilly were appointed to draft suitable resolutions. James McTigue, of the Emerald Hibernian Social Club, reported that the series of dances were becoming more popular and showed increased attendance.

NOVEMBER

Ushered in By the Feasts For All Saints and All Souls.

Was Instituted by Pope Gregory Early in the Seventh Century.

Holy and Wholesome Thought to Pray For Our Departed Friends.

MANY WILL VISIT CEMETERIES

The feast of All Saints, celebrated by the church today, dates from the year 731, when Pope Gregory III, consecrated a chapel in St. Peter's in honor of all the saints. Previous to this and leading up to the institution of the feast, the famous Pantheon of Rome, built by Marcus Agrippa, in honor of Augustus' victory at Actium, and called the abode of all the gods, either because the statues of Mars and several other gods were placed in it, or because his figure, an immense dome, represented the heavens, was dedicated by Boniface IV, to the Blessed Virgin Mary and the martyrs, the day being commemorated each year on May 13 for some years. As the same indicates, the church on this festival honors all the blessed in heaven. She gives thanks to God for the graces bestowed on them, she invites us to the imitation of the virtues of so many men and women of every age, rank and condition that each of us can find one life peculiarly adapted to the proper guidance of his own; she implores the Divine mercy through this innumerable multitude, as St. John calls it, of powerful intercessors; she strives to repair any neglect in the honor due to God through his saints on their particular festivals; and she glorifies Him to the saints unknown to us or for whom no set day has been appointed.

The day following is that of All Souls, in which the church turns to those suffering in the flames of purgatory and pleads for their release before the Divine tribunal. "It is a holy and wholesome thought to pray for the dead, that they may be loosed from their sins." This year the Feast of All Souls, falling on Sunday, will be generally observed on Monday, although many will tomorrow visit the cemeteries and there offer prayers for their dead. Tomorrow at St. Michael's cemetery, however, impressive services for the dead will be held by our German Catholic brethren, who always observe the Feast of All Souls on Sunday. The impressive ceremonies here will be directed by the Franciscan fathers from St. Boniface church convent.

The greatest tribute of love we can pay to our deceased parents, relatives and friends is to pray for them, and to have offered up in their memory the holy sacrifice of the mass. November is the month which the church devotes to the holy souls. Those desiring to remember their dead can not do better than to send an offering to their respective pastors, whose prayers will ascend to heaven for the release of those now suffering temporary punishment.

Masses are also gratefully said by the missionaries for all benefactors, and the faithful children of the missions are also instructed to pray for the intentions of their distant friends. The Society for the Propagation of the Faith is fully empowered by the Holy See to receive and distribute funds. A pious custom is to enroll deceased persons as perpetual, special or ordinary members of the society, and they receive all the indulgences granted by the Holy Father to living members.

SISTER MARY THOMAS.

Wednesday morning in the chapel of the Sisters of Mercy, 1172 East Broadway, was celebrated the funeral mass of Sister Mary Thomas Sheridan, whose death occurred suddenly Sunday afternoon. Sister Mary had been well until Sunday morning, when she was stricken with heart disease while preparing to attend her Sunday duties. The late Sister had been a member of the Sisters of Mercy for over twenty-five years, all of which time had been spent as a teacher in the Mercy Convent in this city. Esteemed by her community and beloved by her pupils, Sister Mary will have many a prayer offered for the repose of her soul by those who knew her worth. Her family name was Sheridan, the late Father John Sheridan, of Holy Cross church, being her brother. She is survived by one brother, Anthony J. Sheridan, freight superintendent of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, to whom is extended sincere sympathy and the prayer that the soul of the good religious may enjoy in heaven the reward of her unselfish life.

ST. WILLIAM'S.

The masses on Saturday, November 1, the feast of All Saints, at St. William's, Thirteenth and Oak, will be at 5:15 and 8:30 a. m. The annual memorial sermon, treating of the Catholic doctrine of purgatory and the power of intercessory prayer, will be preached on Sunday, November 2, at the 8 o'clock services in the evening. Monday morning the mass for all the faithful departed will be at 9 o'clock. Wednesday, November 5, the bi-weekly eucharist and lotte will take place at 8 p. m. in the parish hall, 1224 West Oak street. These diversions are so uniformly attractive that quite a patronage is developing. The rehearsal for the play, "The Real Thing," to be given November 13 and 14, are progressing nicely. Rev. George M. Connor is the pastor of St. William's, and under his energetic leadership the congregation is making most satisfactory progress.

GREETINGS FOR CARDINAL.

Telegrams of greeting were exchanged Saturday between the Protestant Episcopal convention, which closed its sessions in New York, and Cardinal O'Connell. The Rev. Henry Antlice, Secretary of the House of Deputies, telegraphed to the Cardinal: "The General convention of the Protestant Episcopal church sends greetings and asks the guidance of God and the Holy Ghost in your efforts to spread the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ."

To this the Cardinal replied: "I am deeply touched by the cordial message of the General convention and beg to express my heartfelt desire for the speedy union of all God's church under the universal rule of our Lord Jesus Christ."

CULLEN—BARNES.

A courtship that started early this year in the office of the Seelbach Hotel culminated in the marriage on Monday evening of William W. Cullen, Jr., and Miss Rose May Barnes, the ceremony being performed at St. Mary Magdalen's church by the Rev. Father William Gausephel. The young couple tried to keep their marriage secret, but their friends were "on" and tendered them a wedding supper before their departure on a honeymoon trip. Mrs. Cullen is the daughter of William Barnes, 613 Caldwell street, and is an accomplished and popular young lady. The groom is a native of Birmingham, Ala., but for five years has resided over a desk at the Seelbach.

DELEGATE TO CONGRESS.

Hon. Samuel L. Robertson, who will represent Louisville in the next Kentucky State Senate, was significantly honored this week by Gov. McCreary, who appointed him a delegate from Kentucky to the National Rivers and Harbors Congress which meets at Washington, D. C., on December 3, 4 and 5. These appointments have been highly prized and much sought after, and coming unsolicited the honor is appreciated all the more by our next Senator. Big Sam will attend the convention and at the same time continue his trip through the East as a rest after his campaign for Senator and the entire Democratic ticket.

FORTY HOURS.

The Forty Hours' prayer and exposition of the Blessed Sacrament will begin in Louisville tomorrow morning at the high mass at St. Charles Borromeo church. Twenty-seventh and Chestnut streets. These beautiful and impressive devotions will continue until Tuesday.

BIGOTRY

Chief Asset of the Axton-Progressive Party in This Campaign.

Sentiments of Dr. Webb and Dr. Powell Will Have Good Effect.

Judge Matt O'Doherty's Ringing Address Calls Forth Praise.

FANATICS ARE OUT IN THE COLD

With the close of the campaign next Tuesday the dawn of a new and brighter era for Louisville is expected, as the fair-minded citizens of all creeds have effectively put a quietus on the fanatics who have been bobbing up in every campaign for the past several years crying for the defeat of certain candidates on account of their religious belief. The broadness of Dr. Aquilin Webb and Dr. E. L. Powell served to check the efforts of this dark lantern brigade, these gentlemen appealing to all citizens to rebuke this underhanded method now, and it will serve to create a better feeling not only at election time, but all the year around, between men of all religions. A strong reference to the efforts of Messrs. Webb and Powell was made by Judge Matt O'Doherty on Wednesday evening at the Hopkins' Theater rally. He, said in part:

"Of nothing has Louisville more reason to feel proud than of her ministers," he said. "There have been in Louisville at all times men who would use sacred religion as a cloak for setting brother against brother, and man against man. We have had bitter experience in that respect in the past, and that element of miscreants is well represented in our community now. They brought trouble upon us once before, but, thank God, we have with us today such men as Dr. Powell and Dr. Webb, who have said to those mud-gutter speeches of Reno and Rensselaer, that they must keep hands off. They have gone further and have given beautiful expression to a great principle, the God-given right of liberty of conscience."

"Every man has the unrestrained right of worshipping his Creator according to the dictates of his conscience. The fathers of this republic tried in most effective way to secure that great right to every American citizen. The Congress shall make no law toward the establishment of religion or against the free exercise thereof. There never has been an adulterous union of Church and State in this country, and there never will be. We don't want it, and no man or set of men could force it upon us. No one, irrespective of his religious belief, wants to force it upon us. Where that kind of union has existed it has resulted in subjugation of Church to State."

It can safely be said that 85 per cent. of Axton's strength comes from the A. P. A. element, many of whom are trying to hide their real feelings behind the subterfuge of the merger question, etc., others of that ilk being too ignorant to even attempt a discussion of the merger or any other question, and are satisfied to stand aside and listen to the mud-gutter speeches of Reno and Rensselaer, the two leading Progressive orators. If unfortunately Axton and his misfit ticket were elected, Louisville would be thrown behind twenty years in progress and we would have continual battles of religious strife, but if that ticket is defeated decisively then the A. P. A. Junior Order element will be left out in the cold, they having left the Republican party last year principally because of their opposition to Taft on account of his fairness in religious matters, and in the future will be a nonentity in local political campaigns, for which both the Democratic and Republican party should return fervent thanks. As for the other small element of the Bull Mooseers, composed of sore-head Democrats and Republicans, they will probably meet in convention next year with Jake Haager, Labé Phelps, Clancy Byrne, Hunter Ross, Bill Owens, Sam Owens, Bill Baird, Mel Lapallie, Burton Vance and Matt Holt as leading delegates and nominate "Old Man Grump" or "Chris the Crab" for Congress.

The closing rally of the Democratic party will take place tonight in Court House square, and it is expected 20,000 people will be present to sound the death knell of the Bull Moose party as far as Louisville is concerned. Dr. John H. Busebeyer, Congressman Swager Sherley, Edward P. Humphrey, James P. Edwards, Clem Higgins, Thomas Walsh and others will deliver addresses from different points on the square, and the Tribune son and Henry Clay etc. are expected to smile in at the outpouring of the

ABOUT POLITICS.

The Kentucky Irish American heretofore has had little desire to take part in political campaigns, but during the past two months matters were forced into such a condition that it was necessary to expose the dirty work that had been undertaken and is still being carried on.
That we were right in our surmise is proved by the utterances of Rev.
Dr. Powell and Rev. Dr. Aquila Webb, whose ringing words are approved by all true Christian men.
It is really strange that some people in Louisville can not profit by past experience. Anti-Catholic lying is not new in this city, though for a time the propagators thereof have been very quiet. Now, however, they have broken out afresh.
They are not making much noise, but towards that they are underhandedly they are spreading their virus in an endeavor to defeat Catholic gentlemen who have been named for office on some of the tickets. This plan has been tried before, with the result that Catholics have entirely overlooked party and voted for men. This will happen again, though we are free to say the plan is intensely distasteful to those who in conscience can not do otherwise.

At this time we do not care to mention any names. We simply desire to utter a warning to the managers of the Progressive party.
If not too late, that the question of religion must be eliminated from the campaign. Because a man happens to be a Catholic is no good reason for his not holding office.
The fact that some candidates are Catholics is being discussed by narrow-minded bigots who are incompetent to fill any of the minor offices in the city or county government. For their own good, we call upon the managers to silence these contemptible fellows and conduct their campaign on lines that will appeal to all patriotic, loyal citizens.

WHAT WE WANT.

The best interests of the State of Kentucky require that every voter should cast his ballot for a revision of our tax laws at the coming election. The true meaning of the proposed constitutional amendment will result in equal and just taxation, whereby rich and poor will pay alike, and not as now, when the dog tax produces more revenue than all the bonds in Kentucky.
Under the present system millions that should pay revenue to the State escape, but not so the homeless or real estate of the laboring classes. Here is the situation as it now exists and for which a remedy is sought:

"The present law does not produce sufficient revenue for the proper support of the State and local government, in spite of the constantly increasing tax rate. It unjustly places an undue portion of the public burden on some classes of property, and especially upon real estate, while permitting other classes of property entirely to escape taxation. Its inequalities have resulted in driving out and keeping from the State a large amount of capital that is needed in the development of its business. It produces evasion, dishonesty and perjury; encourages contempt for the law, and lowers the moral standard of our people."

This is the reason why Kentucky lags behind, its people are emigrating to other States and we have 7,000,000 acres of unimproved farm lands. Vote for the amendment and a change for the better.

PARTITION DISMISSED.

Only cheering news regarding the political situation comes from England and Ireland this week. Liberals and home rulers are engaged in a widespread campaign and the Irish members address crowded and enthusiastic meetings every night. At least 500 Irish meetings will be held in England and Scotland before the Christmas holidays. And while they are still active the Tories and Orangemen have to confess that it is impossible for them to work up any violent feeling against home rule.

and besides there has come a significant lull in the Ulster campaign.

As expressed by the Hon. T. P.
O'Connor, member of Parliament for Liverpool, it is increasingly evident that English Tories are now ready for any deal which will save their face, but the separation of the four Ulster counties, which was the price offered a fortnight ago by the Tories for acceptance of home rule, will have to be abandoned in the face of the fierce cry of resentment against the proposal, not merely from Irish Nationalists but from southern Unionists. Indeed, the partition of Ireland may now be dismissed as a possible solution.

OFFENSIVE AND UNTRUTHFUL.

During the campaign now closing much that has been offensive and grossly untruthful has been published in the Herald columns. The authors are persons whose opinions are not worth a moment's notice, and therefore for the present we refrain from making their identity known, lest some of the good but red-blooded people to whom they so unjustly referred should be tempted to give them the chastisement they so richly deserve. Meantime they should reflect upon the contemptible position they occupy as the willful and deliberate defamers of a city and people from whom they—strangers of unknown character and antecedents —derive an easy livelihood.

HARD TIMES GOOD.

On all sides one hears of hard times, which bring forth some very thoughtful and timely expressions.
All this is a good thing, some contend, and the nation is fortunate which from time to time learns the lesson of economy from necessity, the best teacher of all. In Germany one hears of retrenchment. England is spending carefully, and the extravagant regime of King Edward has given way to sensible and cautious expenditures. America has similar reports. As the individual must learn self-control and thrift, so must the nation. Money was never given to a nation or a person for purely selfish enjoyment, and in a mysterious way it seems to desert those possessors who regard it as a personal privilege. No worry is so difficult to bear as financial worry.
It seems that every one has worries of this sort. Even the very rich have the same difficulties in keeping up their positions as the debt ridden clerks. By exercising judgment and resistance one can escape all these woes and live within one's income, but people carelessly continue borrowing from Peter to pay Paul, and finally the day of reckoning comes.
People never sympathize with those who reach the end of the financial tether unless these results have been caused by unpreventable misfortune.
It is a hard lesson, but a good one.

Progressives' last shift: To curse everybody and everything.

TIMELY PAMPHLET.

A very timely and convincing pamphlet, entitled "Catholic Priests Distinguished Protestants Have Known," has just been published by the Central Bureau of the Central Verein. It consists of a collection of tributes to members of the Catholic priesthood given by famous men of other faiths, ranging from the eulogy of Thomas Carlyle on Abbot Samson, of Medieval England, to Theodore Roosevelt's complimentary reference to Father Curran, of twentieth century America, and including among others the expressions of praise that the lives and deeds of Bishop Hanna, Father De Smet and Father Damien have evoked. At the present time when such a wave of bigotry and calumny, directed particularly against the priesthood, is sweeping over this country, this pamphlet supplies a very urgent need. It has been written in such a way as to prove of value in combating rampant bigotry.

SECOND CATHOLIC GOVERNOR.

Gov. Glynn will be the first Catholic Governor of New York State since 1832, when the great political genius, Thomas Donnan, was appointed the first Catholic Governor.
Senator Kernan, a Catholic, ran for Governor in 1872, but was defeated by Gov. Dix. Thomas Donnan was a veritable constructive statesman.
He called New York's first legislative assembly in 1832 and was a guiding light, passing "The Charter of Liberties," making the assembly a body coequal to but independent of the English Parliament—proclaimed religious liberty and election by a majority of votes, and to him with historical accuracy can be assigned the honor of American constitutional government, many of whose enactments afterward became part of our Federal law, and eventually England, after the war of 1776, made them a part of her policy toward her colonies, and they are in reality the framework of the present Government of Canada and Australia. It is worthy of notice that the first incorporated into New York law, "No taxation without representation," which eventually became the slogan of the patriots of 1776.

PATRIOTIC CHARITY.

Catholic army veterans who dispensibles in Kalamazoo, Mich., will be given a burial just as good as the one who dies amid plenty. The directors of St. Augustine's church have decided to lay out a plot in the Catholic cemetery there and give to any veteran who may die without means a funeral fitting a man who has served his country. The church will bear the entire cost of burial.

ONE DOLLAR a month keeps you on the pay-roll in event of disability caused by sickness or accident. Can you afford to be without this protection?

Edwin O'Brien, who spent the summer in Europe, arrived home this week. They have been kept busy receiving friends who called to welcome them home.

Joseph Meyer, who was married last week at St. Joseph's Hill, Ind., has brought his bride to this city, where they will make their home.
Meyer was Miss Gertrude Bowe, the daughter of Benjamin Bowe.

John Connors and bride, who was Miss Catherine Silk, who have been spending their honeymoon in Penna-cola and Florida, will return tomorrow, after which they will be at home to their friends at 2106 West Market street.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Corbett, 916 East Market street, New Albany, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Anna May Corbett, to William C. Palmer, of St.
Louis. The marriage will be so-lempnized the latter part of November.

MARCH OF THE HOLY NAME.

Oh! the delight of it—Glory and might of it!
March of the Holy Name—men of true mold!
Speeding to greet their King, Bearing this offering, Speech pure as silver, or silence as gold!

League of the rev'rent tongue, Heroes, both old and young, While the bands play and the banners appear.
Proudly their ranks proclaim Praise to the Holy Name—Praise to the Word Divine, deathless and dear!

Back to Inferno flee Foul speech and blasphemy!
Demons profane to your Hades depart!
Here is no place for you, Naught save disgrace for you, Vanished by men of clean lips and clean heart!

Victors of vice and wrong, God's grace hath made them strong, Wide be their reign and triumphant their rule!
Vast be the multitude Soon to be soul-subdued, Listen and trained in the Great Captain's school!

Hark to the tramp of them!
Holy the camp of them!
Happy the homes where their voices are heard!
Life shall be blessed for them, Death sweetest rest for them—Glory to God, to His Name and His Word!
—Eleanor C. Donnelly.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

Prompt returns should be made for tickets for "The Confession." Throughout the Far West the order is securing a gratifying increase in membership.

Division 1 of Elkton, the largest in South Dakota, will initiate a big class November 8.

Division 1 of Omaha has outgrown its old quarters and has secured a spacious hall in the Paxton block.

The Milwaukee Ladies' Auxiliary inaugurated its social season last night with a harvest dance and clench party.

With its furnishings the Hibernian building just dedicated at Roxbury, Mass., represents a cost of $250,000.

Division 4 of St. Paul held an open meeting Monday night, when Martin J. Ryan delivered a lecture on Andrew Jackson.

Division 3 meets Monday night.
The session will be not long delayed, and therefore all members are expected to be present.

Miss Mary Murphy, State President, was greeted by a large gathering last week when she visited the Ladies' Auxiliary at Neshua, N. H.

There is now $2,000 in the fund for the erection of a Hibernian building at Manchester, N. H. A site is being sought in the center of the city.

Division 42 of New York City boasts of having the Presidents or Vice Presidents of ten of the Irish city organizations in its membership.

Division 2 of Sioux City has contributed $100 to the home rule fund for Ireland. Outside the order the members have raised about $200 more.

This week the Hibernians of Manchester, N. H., have been conducting a "nat'nal" in the Veterans' Armory to swell the building fund started a year ago.

Division 1 will not meet Tuesday night. Every member and his friends are looked for at the complimentary entertainment, luncheon and dance on November 18.

The Hibernian Club, recently organized by the energetic young members in Denver, has already become active in a social way and has nearly completed a programme of winter entertainments.

Arrangements are being made by Division 1 of Portland, Ore., for the observance of Patriots' day, when tribute will be paid to the innumerable great men of the Irish race. It will take place on the Allen, Larkin and O'Brien anniversary.

All members of Division 2 should attend the meeting next Thursday night. The committee arranging for the euchre and dance will make its report. Business of importance will be transacted, and in addition there are promised some agreeable features.

Our Ladies' Auxiliary meets Wednesday night at Falls City Hall.
The business will be of more than ordinary interest and it is expected that the financial returns to be reported will add much to the already well filled treasury. Miss Nellie Nolan urges all the members to be present.

Omaha Hibernians will initiate a large class on Sunday, November 9.
They will receive holy communion in a body at the Church of the Holy Angels in the morning, and the initiation ceremonies will be graced by the presence of the Reverend State President, Father Shine, of Plattsburgh.

WALNUT THEATRE.

Feature films and high class vaudeville continue to attract audiences that fill the Walnut-street Theatre day and night. The vaudeville acts are original and surprising and are presented by artists who rank in the headline class.

DRAWING NEARER.

The Protestant Bishop of London, preaching at the opening of the Church of England Congress at Southampton, pleaded for the invocation of the practice of prayer for the saints for spiritual help should he restored to the Anglican establishment.

REBUKE WISELY.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself," began an indignant Mether Superior on finding that the applicant for food was under the influence of liquor. "Sister," interrupted the petitioner, "feed a man first and scold him afterward." The advice was taken with good results. No matter how hard it is to keep from saying harsh words—and they are often well merited—there is nothing to be gained by scolding any one not in condition to profit by reproof. If some wives would remember this, there would be much less unhappiness and misery and hawling in the home.

PARIS NOTES.

The use of dyed fur is becoming more general.

The two tired skirt is usually of lamp shade variety.

Brown and white is a much favored combination.

A street dress of dark blue has a nauseating velvet girle.

There is a strong revival of empire styles in evening gowns.

One of fashion's latest caprices is the jet robe for day wear.

Attractive are the odd coats of velour de laine trimmed with fur.

Some of the newest tailored suits have loose jackets with belts at the hip line.

Short plaited tunics of white lace or tulle appear on many costumes of black satin.

Sleeve lengths are greatly varied.
Evening costumes have short cape sleeves with angel draperies, which leave the arm uncovered. The dressy afternoon gowns have long or three-quarter sleeves.

ATTENDS BROTHER'S FUNERAL.
Monday the Rev. Father Charles Curran, pastor of Holy Trinity church in New Albany, received the sad news of the death of his brother, James H. Curran, at Rochester, N. Y.
Father Curran left at once to attend the funeral. The deceased brother was seventy-three years old and was one of Rochester's most highly esteemed citizens.

SUPPER SOCIAL.
The congregation of St. Peter's church, Seventeenth and Garland, will enjoy its annual fall supper social on the evenings of November 18, 19 and 20, and invite their friends from the other parishes. Several entertaining features are being prepared for this event.

AFTER-ELECTION EUCHE.
The Young Men's Social Club will give a euchre and lotto next Wednesday evening in their club rooms, 717 Oldham street, and are offering several nice prizes to the winners. The club will receive election returns and keep open house on Tuesday evening.

BEEF CHILI.
Brown a few pieces of round steak in a little suet, add a shredded onion, a chopped green pepper and a piece of red pepper sufficient to make it warm enough for the family taste.
Add a pint of tomatoes, cover and simmer for a half hour. Season with salt when cooking.

Get plenty of sleep—it is better than many cosmetics.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

Lord De Freyne died recently at his residence, Frenchpark, County Roscommon. He was aged fifty-eight.

Hundreds of children and adults have recently been engaged in picking blackberries along hedges and laneways in Donegal.

Dr. P. O. Walsh, for thirty-two years medical officer of the Castlereagh Workhouse, has resigned that position owing to ill-health.

The death has occurred at the age of ninety-five of Patrick Kane, Ballyconnell. He has long been a prominent figure in local affairs.

At the Ballyglass Quarter Sessions held recently County Court Judge Barry said there was no criminal business to go before the court.

St. Colman's Catholic church, Kilkeel, regarded as one of the finest Gothic churches in Ulster, has just had added to it a very fine tower.

Mrs. Kate O'Reilly, of Mohill, has worked for a great number of years in her trade as a shoemaker. She is contractor to the Mohill Workhouse, and can turn out a shoe unaided from start to finish.

A young business man named Archibald Taggart, of Aughnacloy, was accidentally shot in the leg while rabbit shooting. He was taken to Monaghan Infirmary, where it was found necessary to amputate the leg.

At the Listowel Petty Sessions two young men named Dan and Pat Moloney and two others named Galvin and Stack, charged by the Fishery Conservators with poisoning the River Smeragh at Ardidenigan, were dismissed.

At St. Peter's College, Wexford, the Most Rev. Dr. Brown ordained to the priesthood Rev. William Fortune, Tullamore, and Rev. Stephen Barron, Admaston. Father Fortune has been appointed curate to Ballycaney, County Wexford.

J. Shanahan, while engaged at the repairs of the roof of the Catholic church at Roscrea, fell from the platform at the top, a distance of about forty feet, and was badly injured.
He was removed to the Roscrea Infirmary, where he succumbed to his injuries.

A verdict that death was due to laceration of the brain, caused by a motor car, and through negligence on the part of the driver, was returned at an inquest held at Gort Workhouse on Patrick Bradley, a returned American, who had only recently purchased a farm at Gort.

The body of Patrick Roche, Tullig, was found on the railway between Devon road and Abbeyfeale. He had a wound on the head, and within a few feet was a stone covered with blood. It can not be ascertained whether the man fell from a train or was struck by an engine while walking on the line.

The death occurred at the age of eighty of Alderman Richard Cronin, a former Mayor of Cork City. He was identified with the public life of the city on various boards for well over a quarter of a century, and was for thirty years a member of the corporation, and in 1907 that body elected him to the Mayoralty.

Peggy Devine, aged 108, of County Mayo, has served four generations in one family—the Fitzpatricks. In a photograph just published she is shown with representatives of three generations she saw in the cradle—a daughter of her former mistress aged eighty-six, a grandson aged sixty-nine, and a great grandson aged twenty.

ENTERPRISE CLUB DANCE.
The Enterprise Club will give a euchre and lotto next Monday afternoon and evening in St. Charles Borromeo school hall. Twenty-seventh and Chestnut streets, and have secured quite a collection of handsome prizes to be distributed to the winners.
The afternoon games will begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock and the evening games at 8.

CATHEDRAL NEAR COMPLETION.
Archbishop Glennon has made announcement that the new $2,000,000 St. Louis Cathedral will probably be held shortly after New Year's, as the interior arrangements by that time will be sufficiently completed. He states that he has been authorized by the donor of the $100,000 main altar to proceed with its erection at once, and that he has let the contracts for the heating, flooring, lighting and pews.
He added, however, that he did not wish to rush matters and thereby incur debt, as so far he has paid cash for everything that has been done in the vast structure.

WELL TO KNOW.
When paint sticks to glass it can be removed with hot vinegar.

To remove fruit stains from the hands, rub them with the juice of a tomato.

For the hair, add the juice of a lemon to the last rinsing water of a shampoo.

Egg stains on silk can usually be removed by rubbing with ordinary table salt.

To prevent mustard from drying in the mustard pot, add a little salt when making it.

To make glassware clear and sparkling, add a little washing blue to the soap suds when washing.

After filling a lamp with kerosene oil, dampen a cloth with vinegar and rub the reservoir till quite dry.
This will prevent the lamp from sneezing.

When washing colored or patterned materials in which the colors may run, one teaspoonful of blue lake added to the tub of water will set the colors once and for all.

Equal parts of ammonia and turpentine will take paint out of cloth no matter how dry it may be. Fresh paint can be easily removed from woolen fabrics by rubbing it between the hands.

IRISH SOCIAL EVENT.

Division 2, of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, will hold a grand euchar and dance on Thursday night, November 20, when its members hope to have one of the best patronized and most enjoyable Irish social events of the present season. It will be held in their hall at Thirteenth and Oak streets, and if the untiring efforts of the hustling Committee of Arrangements count for anything it should be a tremendous success. There will be good music and splendid prizes, and they invite all to come and bring their friends.

PAULIST MISSION.

A week's mission will open tomorrow morning in St. Frances of Rome church, of which the Rev. Father Thomas W. White is the pastor. There will be services every morning and evening, and the solemn close and blessing will take place on Sunday, November 9. Two of the most eloquent and forceful speakers of the Paulist order, Fathers Devereux and Allard, will conduct the mission. Catholics are invited to bring with them their non-Catholic friends. This will also be an opportunity for many to make the great jubilee now nearing its end.

ENTERTAIN FOR BRIDE-ELECT.

Miss Louise Shelley, whose marriage to John F. Lynch, of Boston, will take place November 26, will be extensively entertained prior to her marriage. Today Miss Vera Serencombe will give a bridge party in her honor. November 6 Mrs. Emery Graham will give a bridge party in her honor. Mesdames John Rodas and George Twyman will be hosts at a card party November 11 in honor of Miss Shelley. November 17 Mrs. Carroll C. English and November 18 Miss Edith Elwang will give bridge parties in her honor.

PRIESTS ARE PLEASED.

Two great missions for men have been in progress this week at St. Charles and St. Ann's churches, the large attendance and results being most gratifying to the earnest missionary priests and the pastors, Rev. Charles P. Ratto and Rev. J. T. Hill. Many men who have been careless have been awakened to their religious duty and will tomorrow morning approach the holy sacrament with that feeling of self-satisfaction and joy not otherwise attainable.

LEXINGTON.

Friends and relatives were painfully shocked Monday morning when Mrs. Mary Lacey, fifty-two years old, wife of William Lacey, an engineer on the Cincinnati Southern railroad, was found dead in bed at her home, 440 Curry avenue, Lexington. She was alone in the house when she died, her husband having left Sunday night on his run on the road and did not return until after the body had been found by neighbors, who became anxious about Mrs. Lacey when she did not appear, and forced open the door of her home. She had been last seen alive when she visited a neighbor about 9 o'clock Sunday night. Mrs. Lacey is survived by her husband, a sister, Mrs. Ellen Dalton, of Louisville, and two brothers, James and Nicholas Sullivan, of Frankfort. The remains were taken to Frankfort for burial.

RECENT DEATHS.

A widely respected woman was called to her eternal reward last Saturday morning, when Mrs. Katie Ridge died at the family home, 1654 Tyler avenue, leaving several children to mourn her death. Her funeral was held Friday evening from St. Patrick's church.

Heartfelt sympathy of many friends is extended to Frank and Catherine Kinstler, 529 Central avenue, who have suffered a severe bereavement in the death of their little daughter Frances, aged one year and four months. The funeral took place Thursday morning from Holy Name church.

A patient sufferer was called to her reward Wednesday morning, when Mrs. Rosa Moline, beloved wife of George Moline, died at the family home, 933 Lampton street. Mrs. Moline was in her twenty-second year, and before her marriage was Miss Rosa Kirchdorfer. Her funeral was held Friday morning from St. Martin's church, of which she was a devout member.

The funeral of Mitchell J. Schmitt, who died Monday night at his home, 1155 South Shelby street, was conducted Thursday morning from St. Vincent de Paul church, when many mourning friends paid their last tribute of respect. Deceased was thirty-nine years old, and leaves his wife, who was Miss Alice Devaney. Respected in the neighborhood where he lived, many friends mourn his death.

The funeral of Mrs. Julia Raverty, 1015 Pearl street, New Albany, was held from Holy Trinity church, of which she was a life-long member. Mrs. Raverty had gone to the home of her sister, Mrs. Louis Schauf, to assist in caring for her aged mother, when she became ill and never recovered sufficiently to be removed home. Besides her husband and sister she leaves one brother, Hon. Michael Thornton.

DOMINICAN PROVINCIAL.

The Very Rev. J. R. Meagher, O. P. pastor of St. Dominic's church, Washington, D. C., was last week made Provincial of the Eastern province of the Dominican order. Father Meagher has a nationwide reputation as a pulpit orator and promoter of the Holy Name Society.

LALLY—WILLET.

A pretty and interesting marriage was solemnized Wednesday morning at the Church of Our Lady, when Elmer Willett led to the altar Miss Sarah Lally, the attractive and popular daughter of Michael Lally, 3022 Bank street. Rev. Father Conniff, the pastor, performed the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass, which was attended by many friends of the bride and groom. Harry and Joseph Lally, brothers of the bride, were the attendants. John F. Lally, Deputy Circuit Clerk in the court of Judge William Field, is also a brother.

MACKIN COUNCIL.

Mackin Council, Y. M. I., held a well attended meeting Monday night, when the Mustlers and Boosters presented a number of applications in the membership contest. The Entertainment Committee now presents an interesting feature at each meeting, which draws large numbers to the club house. Basket ball is now on for the season with a league of six teams. At the last meeting Dick Andriot was elected President; Joseph Buffehr, Vice President, and Robert Osborn, Secretary.

IMPROVING AT INFIRMARY.

The legion of friends of Frank A. Clegg, head of the firm of F. A. Clegg & Co., will be rejoiced to learn that he is rapidly recovering at St. Joseph's infirmary. Mr. Clegg was stricken last week while at his office on First street and went to his home, 2108 West Chestnut street. Physicians diagnosed his ailment as appendicitis and on Monday he was removed to the infirmary. Thursday his condition was much improved and satisfactory to his attendants.

SOCIAL CLUB DANCE.

The Emerald Hibernian Social Club will give the next of their series of dances Wednesday evening at Utopian Hall and an increased attendance is expected. These affairs are becoming more popular with each event, the splendid music furnished by Collins' orchestra being one of the features. James McTigue, L. J. Meany, Thomas Farrell and James Flitburn comprise the Reception Committee for Wednesday evening.

GAYETY THEATER.

The attraction at the Gayety Theater next week will be Eleanor Montell in the celebrated English divorce play, "A Butterfly on the Wheel." The success of this play in London and New York has been pronounced. Miss Montell is an actress of wide experience, and her portrayal of the character of Peggy will doubtless add to her reputation. The Gayety is now playing to crowded houses at all performances, the matinees proving very popular.
